American Short Course Championships Recap

This past weekend we had 13 athletes learn a lot about themselves by having to deal with tremendous adversity in terms of their season ending competition. On Wednesday evening around 5pm the directors of the meet notified all teams that the competition scheduled to be held at the University of Texas was being moved to San Antonio and set to start at the normal time on Thursday at 9:30am. With all plans and everything arranged for competition in one of the best, if not best pools in the country, the team altered plans. On Thursday morning, all left EARLY in the morning, fought San Antonio traffic and arrived at the Northside Aquatics Center 2 hours later. The meet was being held in the indoor training pool and not in the glorious outdoor pool. Despite this change in venue and then moving to a hotel in San Antonio while still having to pay for rooms in Austin, the team stepped up and raced their hearts out. There were not very many best times in the meet, but the team did very well in comparison with the other college teams and club teams in the competition. Here are some highlights:
